What is it about?
Mallorca, summer. After her grandmother's death, Catalina begins to imitate her: wearing her clothes, mimicking her gestures. What begins as an accident gradually blurs the lines between reality, grief and her own identity.

It's for you, if...
You would like "A Ghost Story" in the Mediterranean, a ghost story that's more moving than frightening.

What should you know?
It won the critics' award at the prestigious Toronto festival.

What is it about?
An acclaimed filmmaker, estranged from his family, decides to cast his daughter in his latest film. What should be a creative collaboration ends up reigniting old resentments and family conflicts.

It's for you, if...
You want to see the new gem from one of the great masters of Spanish cinema before anyone else.

What should you know?
Its premiere at the Cannes Film Festival earned enthusiastic reviews from some of the world's most prestigious publications, including The New Yorker and The New York Times.

What is it about?
A pop star reunites with her best friend on the eve of the concert that is meant to mark her return to the stage. And yes, it doesn't go well.

It's for you, if...
You love A24, dance to Charli XCX, and dream of a crossover between "Showgirls", "Euphoria" and "All About Eve".

What should you know?
Cult director David Lowery teams up with a stellar cast—Anne Hathaway, Hunter Schafer, Michaela Coel and FKA twigs. What more could you ask for?

What is it about?
An adaptation of one of Annie Ernaux's greatest novels, in which she recounts her first sexual experience at 17, at a summer camp, and how, as an adult, she returned to that pivotal moment to explore the boundaries of desire and consent.

It's for you, if...
You're a fan of Annie Ernaux and thoughtful period dramas.

What should you know?
The film is directed by mother-and-daughter duo Judith Godrèche and Tess Barthélémy, who also stars in the film. Judith Godrèche was also one of the leading figures behind France's #MeToo movement.

What is it about? Perfect Jim is, as his name suggests, perfect: an influencer, a sex symbol and the queen of the queer scene. But his life is turned upside down when he contracts "Heterosis", a virus that turns him straight. Abandoned by everyone except a young twink hiding his sexuality, the two set out in search of a cure that will make Jim perfect again.

It's for you, if... You laugh with RuPaul's Drag Race, dance to Madonna and can name more than one Eurovision winner.

What should you know?
Its screening at the Cannes Film Festival was described by festival director Thierry Frémaux as the event's most memorable screening since "Priscilla, la reina del desierto" premiered.

What is it about?
Budapest, 1957. After the uprising against the communist regime, a young orphan is confronted with the arrival of a mysterious man claiming to be his father.

It's for you, if...
You like period dramas, whether slow-burning or fast-paced.

What should you know?
Ten years after directing one of the century's most remarkable debuts, Son of Saul, Academy Award winner László Nemes rewrites the past of his own family history.

What is it about?
Three relatives of people who disappeared during the Spanish Civil War set out in search of their loved ones' remains. Faced with bureaucratic and legal obstacles, they turn to new technologies to locate them in the Valley of the Fallen.

It's for you, if...
You believe historical memory should never be erased, no matter how hard some may try.

What should you know?
Manuel Correa uses digital technologies, renders and animation to show us the Valley of the Fallen as it's never been seen before.

What is it about?
Two neighbouring countries struggle to maintain a fragile truce after years of war. In the middle of an empty desert, two soldiers; one from each side; meet while guarding their respective borders. But the real problem begins when they forget which side they're on.

It's for you, if...
You can imagine Samuel Beckett waiting for Godot in the desert.

What should you know?
Oscar Hudson's feature debut. Best known for directing music videos for Radiohead and James Blake, he won three awards at the Venice Film Festival for this proposal, as ingenious as it is personal.

What is it about?
Before anyone was talking about climate change, seven siblings moved to the foot of a glacier. They cared for it like devoted guardians. After they died, only ruin and melting ice remained. Photographer Ragnar Axelsson returns to that same place in search of the siblings' traces and the echo of a past on the verge of disappearing.

It's for you, if...
You're as much a fan of Greta Thunberg as you are of Greta Garbo, and you're looking for a film that combines cinema with a powerful message.

What should you know?
Poetic and reflective, the film is a tribute to the importance of documenting and, above all, protecting our environment.

What is it about?
A lonely performer explores his sexuality through a screen. There, he meets strangers until he ends up blurring the line between the real and the virtual, and between theatre and life. A masked man, a crime to solve and a roulette wheel that never stops spinning.

It's for you, if...
You ask for risk from theatre, audacity from cinema and mystery from sex.

What should you know?
It was the only Spanish film selected for the prestigious SXSW London festival, where it won two Biznagas at the Málaga Film Festival: Best Film and Best Actor for Lluís Garau.

DAMA Screenwriters meet

With Isabel Peña and Javier Giner

Moderated by DAMA President Virginia Yagüe

A conversation between two of the most important screenwriters in our industry: two-time Goya Award winner Isabel Peña ("As Bestas", "El Reino"), who this year co-writes one of the most anticipated Spanish films, "El ser querido"; and Javier Giner, creator of the acclaimed "Yo adicto", winner of an International Emmy Award, who will also premiere his feature film "Esta soledad" this year. The discussion will focus on the challenges surrounding the screenwriting profession, as well as the opportunities available to those who aspire to tell stories.
